PIONEER WASHER.

JAMES BRUSIE,

AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It is easily worked by one person.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

The undersigned is now in the city of Portland, where he can be seen at Mr. O. Kilbourn's Store, corner of Front and Yamhill sts., East side Portland, and is prepared to furnish the Machine to purchasers and also to sell and dispose of County Rights for the sale of the same.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 17.

Opinion of the Attorney General.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The Attorney General's opinion is published. The points made have been correctly telegraphed. The argument is quite elaborate. Military commanders are bound to protect regularly elected State officials in the enjoyment of their rights and are not authorized to destroy those rights. No officials, legislative, judicial, or executive can be appointed to office by military right. The election of their own officers is still left with the people, but right must be preserved.

Stanbury proceeds to specify some acts in which the Generals have exceeded their authority. Sickles assumes that the law invests himself with the same power and authority. The President must see that they execute their duties according to law. A military commander has power when in his judgment it is necessary to take the administration of the law into his own hands, and punish criminals by military commissions. The Attorney General doubts the constitutionality of the law. On this point he cites decisions of the minority of the Supreme Court.

Kansas News.

OTTAWA, June 17.—The Senate passed the Constitutional Amendment.

Two men were taken from a hotel at Council Bluffs by persons representing themselves as officers. They were afterwards found hung to a tree.

Southern News.

WILMINGTON, N. C., June 11.—Judge Barnes adjourned Court at Tarboro, because negroes summoned as jurors, were not qualified under the law.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 16.—Alexander Webb, the colored register of voters in Green county, was murdered last night at Greensboro. No particulars of the affair are known.

NEW ORLEANS, June 15.—The Republican State Convention failed a resolution asking Congress to appropriate fifty million dollars for the purchase of Cuba.

Texas papers contain accounts of devastating storms in that State on the 3d inst. Many lives were lost and much property destroyed.

BALTIMORE, June 16.—Aaron is rapidly recovering. Collyer is fast improving, and no serious result is anticipated.

The Indian War—Miscellaneous.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Sioux City (Iowa) papers give various accounts of the depredations of Indians near Fort Randall. An attack is expected. Several attacks on steamers are reported. A number of dock hands were killed.

The Wyandotte special jury, which hung negroes, were almost entirely non residents. The citizens held large meetings and denounced the act and offered a large reward for the apprehension of the murderers.

A negro was hung in Shawneetown, Kansas, yesterday afternoon, for committing an outrage on an emigrant girl.

The Boston craft Nonpareil was spoken to 170 miles east of Sandy Hook. All well.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

BERLIN, June 15.—King William and Bismarck have arrived from Paris.

LONDON, June 16.—The Government will send a large number of troops to Canada.

BERLIN, June 16.—The Czar arrived to-day from Paris. The King of Egypt also arrived and met with an enthusiastic reception.

DUBLIN, June 16.—Several additional cases of high treason have been laid before the Special Commissioner of Limerick and resulted in the conviction of the accused parties.

FROM COLVILLE.

The Walla Walla Statesman gives the following:

Judge Wyche and party returned on yesterday from holding court at Colville, and we learn from the Judge that the amount of business in court was larger than any previous term. Some fourteen of the soldiers were indicted for killing Judge Stewart, and James Riley, the man who did the shooting, was put on his trial, convicted of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to twenty years imprisonment in the penitentiary. Owing to the danger of his release by the soldiers there, he was ordered to the Pierce county jail for imprisonment. Owing to the impracticability of getting a jury, and trying the other parties to the killing, a nolle prosequi was entered against them.

The Judge informs us that, from conversations with different persons who had been to "49" and the French creek mines, he was of the opinion that those in the mines were doing better this season than last. The crops are represented as very promising in the valley. Captain White has made four trips with his boat to the mines, and the party who went up to Colville were invited to take a trip on the Captain's boat, but for want of time had to decline. All who went up, with whom we have conversed, represent Colville valley as the most inviting spot for immigrants on the upper coast.

Condition of the Penitentiary.

The following paragraphs are extracted from the report of the Superintendent of the Oregon State Penitentiary, for the quarter ending May 31st:

Since the commencement of the quarter, March 1st, there has been received from various Sheriffs, 8 convicts. During the same time, 1 died, and 4 have been discharged upon the expiration of sentence, making a total of 5. Remaining in the Penitentiary June 1st, 1867, 52.

The amount of labor performed during the quarter, for the month of March, 1,281 days; April, 1,102 days; May, 1,251. Total, 3,636 days, and has been distributed as follows: 1st, making brick-yard, 2d, repairing water conductors; 3d, building stockade for security of prisoners, 4th, removing brick and wood from prison yard; 5th, plowing, planting and gardening; 6th, laying water conductors, 7th, clearing ground, 8th, preparing machinery for brick making; 9th, making tools, cisterns, wheelbarrows and railroad for use; 10th, making and repairing clothing; 11th, house service, 15th, continuous operations of such a variety that the detail would almost be endless.

There being no direct source of income from the labor of the convicts, I considered it my duty to attempt to create as large an income with as little expenditure as is compatible with true economy. With such view I have purchased a machine for making brick; which machine meets my expectations regarding its capacity, and will, during the dry months, give full employment to the whole force of convicts that can be withdrawn from house duties.

From the old mode of furnishing a miscellaneous lot of provisions to convict cooks, I have introduced the ration system. An experience of six months satisfied me that the only way to control my provision department, was by giving it a responsible, official head, and from the head of department exact strict official accountability. I applied the remedy, and within the last month and one half past my provision allowance has fallen off not less than 10 per cent, thus making a saving of that amount, and from grease and filth, raised the kitchen standard until it has no equal in the State. The result has proved the value and necessity of the continuation of the plan adopted.

Since I have been in charge of the State Prison I have found among the younger convicts a latent desire for knowledge, which desire has been carefully nursed by furnishing prisoners with slates, spelling-books, and in some instances more advanced works, until within the past month the thirst became so great that, under advisement, the wardens established an evening school in the dining room. The classes and teachers are detailed. The wardens occupy the hall with the night guard, and one and one half hours are dedicated to educational purposes. Those who are not permitted to go into the dining apartment, occupy the time in reading, or such conversation as is not prohibited.

LEMHI.—A letter from Leesburg (May 28th) to the Idaho Statesman gives the following information about these mines:

There are a few claims opened that are paying well. I visited yesterday a gulch known as Luna, where more mining is being done than in any other part of the camp. On that gulch there are fourteen claims opened, employing about one hundred and twenty five men. Hired men get six dollars a day and paid every Saturday night. The owners of the diggings claim that the gulch is rich. There is any number of diggings in the country, but the question is, will they pay? No one knows yet. Business has been done all winter on the credit system, and those who ventured here are trying to raise enough to square up. There is no money here yet because there are so few taking out any. Goods are plenty, but sales are exceedingly slow for cash.

The monastery of Arendi, which was recently blown up by the Cretan insurgents, was eight hundred years old, and was the finest and richest in the Levant.

STATE ITEMS.

The Aurora Brass Band will go to Eugene City on the Fourth of July.

Wheat sells at 50 cents at Eugene City. Oats at 2½ cents, and butter at 15 cents.

Lafayette has caught the Base Ball mania, and has formed a Club. It is hard to tell what will be the rage in Oregon next.

Haying has commenced in Rogue River valley. Labor is in demand, and wages are from thirty-five to forty dollars per month with board.

The Good Templars will have a picnic at Hillsboro on the 28th inst. Ex-Gov. Gibbs will deliver an address commencing at 11 o'clock A. M.

The people in Southern Oregon and Northern California are preparing petitions to the Department praying for a continuation of the daily mail.

Sheep in large numbers have been driven southward from the upper section of the Willamette valley during the past few weeks. The Roseburg Ensign learns that 40,000 head have passed through the toll gate at the Canyon the present season.

The people of Polk county are exercised about the valley railroad and holding meetings similar to those recently held in Yamhill. This agitation may do good, and even if it does not accomplish much it will furnish opportunity for innocent amusement.

Several droves of cattle, says the Eugene Journal, have lately been driven over the McKenzie trail to the grazing country east of the mountains. Some of the herds of cattle which are being driven into that region may become a valuable contribution to "Lo's" Commissary Department.

The Yamhill Democrats are going to hold a meeting at Lafayette "to disenthral the vampires and leeches who are sapping the life-blood out of the nation." Curious reason for holding a political meeting. The object as stated by the Courier, is not quite clear. We shall await the proceedings of this meeting with no little anxiety.

The Indians infest the Burnt River country. The Boise Statesman of the 18th says that a man named Richardson was attacked by a party of Indians near Express ranch on Saturday last while going from that place to Rye valley. As he was putting the brake down on his wagon a shot passed through the s

The Death of Mayor Holmes.

Sudden death is always startling. Men are always moved when a fellow being is called away without a warning. Especially is this the case when the blow falls upon one who occupies a prominent position in the community. Mayor Holmes had been brought very conspicuously before the people in the political contest which has just been decided in the city, and his sudden death therefore, produced a deep impression here. Apart from the recollections of the recent canvass, the prominency which had been given him by it and the fact of his election, his death, simply as a private citizen whose name is connected with the history of Portland, would be a notable event. At a time like this when all strife is forgotten and all animosity is buried, and whatever views men may hold toward their fellow men while he is concerned in the pursuits and activities of life, they stand around an open grave with other thoughts and emotions. This is one of those events which admonishes us that in human hearts no bolder thoughts can rise than presumption on to-morrow's dawn.

Eight Hour Nonsense.

There is a class of small fry politicians who are just now pushing themselves forward with unusual activity and impudence as the champions of the laboring classes. They claim to be the exclusive friends of labor, and will not allow that their political opponents ever entertain a thought for the welfare of working men. Cheap professions of devotion to the interests of labor often form the sole capital on which political charlatans seek to do business; and the agitation of the labor question during the last few months, has thrown to the surface an unusual number of these selfish mountebanks. We find them discussing the relations of labor and capital with an air of superior wisdom, and making it their main object to show that they are the true friends of labor and that their political adversaries are men who would chain down the working classes at the feet of an aristocracy formed by the combined capital of the country. It is a noticeable fact that nearly all these loud-mouthed pretenders are men who have been distinguished for nothing except a lifelong attachment to a system of servitude, which was both oppressive to the bondman and prejudicial to the interests of the free laborer. They do not now discuss the subject to which they are giving so much of their attention in a true spirit of inquiry and with a desire to understand and explain the relations between capital and labor; but they harp upon it solely for the purpose of making party capital and furthering their own selfish designs. This is the obvious intent and meaning of their efforts. A selfish and partisan feeling is their controlling motive. There is not a spark of sense in any of the discussions of this subject which are prompted by a spirit of partisanship; and the man who is "fishing for votes" is, or should be the least trusted person alive.

The Legislature of Illinois enacted the 'eight-hour law, and the result of that experiment is tolerably well known. It was a complete failure which demonstrated the utter folly of any attempt to regulate the hours and the price of labor by legislative enactment. Regardless of the experience of Illinois, the Connecticut Legislature enacted a similar measure. It is evidently a political move, and both parties have joined in it, each fearing to let the other appear as the exclusive champion of labor. No doubt it was passed with a full knowledge on all sides that it was a humbug; for if any one had ever held to the idea that such a law could be successful, that idea would have been effectually dispelled by the late trial and failure of the plan in another State. When the telegraph announced the passage of this law in Connecticut, we characterized the adoption of the measure as "eight-hour nonsense,"—whereupon the mountebank politician of the Herald replied:

> To speak of a measure which is strongly urged by so large a number of citizens, in such contemptuous terms, is simply an insult to the class and betrays the animus of its author towards the great industrial classes of the country.

Now the eight-hour law is not a citizens' but a politicians' measure. The better informed among the working classes know that it is a humbug, and every person of sense knows that it was enacted in Illinois as well as in Connecticut, not in the belief that it would lighten the burdens of laborers, but in the hope that it could be turned to political account. It was for this reason that we called the enactment another specimen of "eight-hour nonsense." We think we may, without affectation, claim to have as much sympathy for the industrial classes as that person possesses who all his life has been an apologist for an aristocracy, which not only owned all the capital in half the country, but demanded without reward the labor by which capital is produced; and we can therefore afford to treat the constant insinuations of this sort which are thrown out against us by a shallow politician, of the old proslavery Democratic school, with the contempt which they deserve.

The known results of the enactment of the eight hour law, as well as common sense itself, justify us in calling such a measure "eight hour nonsense." The laborer cannot get as much for eight hours work as he can for ten; that much is certain. The eight hour rule may prevail where the working classes can live upon the proceeds of eight hours labor, and nowhere else. The employers raise no controversy with the operative classes about the length of the day; they simply decline to pay full wages for eight hours work. This is the gist of the whole matter. And because we call it nonsense to suppose that a person who has an article to sell can obtain as much for four-fifths of it as he can for the whole, in steps your narrow politician asserting that the utterance of such a sentiment is proof positive that its author is hostile to labor and in favor of combinations of capital to oppress laboring men!

Labor may legitimately combine against capital. Its right to do this is undoubted. If a man does not think the price which is offered him for his labor a fair compensation, he may refuse to take it. If any number of men are of a like opinion, they may unite in keeping up the price of labor. The mercantile community has often been known to combine to keep up the price of their wares. Laborers may do the same.

But capital has also a like privilege; and say what we will, capital will not hesitate to use it. It will buy as cheap as it can, and it will purchase labor on the same principle it observes in purchasing everything else. Hence arises the struggle between capital and labor. The law can not prescribe what the laborer shall receive or what the capitalist shall pay. This the eight hour law contemplates doing, as it evidently intends to secure to the working man as much pay for eight hours' service as he has been obtaining for one-fifth more. Hence we call this law "eight hour nonsense." We should be glad to see the hours of labor reduced, but we cannot expect that it will be generally done. There are too many people who cannot live on the pay of less than ten hours labor, and there are some classes who always have been, and who always will be, obliged to work even longer. The capitalist will never buy labor when he becomes a loser by the transaction, and therefore he will not pay full rates for eight hours labor. These are facts, and all the loose declamation in the world will not change them.

THE HELENA HERALD.—A late Helena Herald says it has fourteen and one-half tons of printing presses and materials on the way from St. Louis, and that about the 10th of July will greet its readers with a daily paper of modern dimensions. This is a large amount of printing material for so new a country, but we sincerely hope that the investment will pay a handsome profit for such enterprise surely deserves it.

The Republican Party.

During the rebellion the organization with which we are associated generally called itself the "Union party." After the rebellion was crushed the Democrats began to call themselves "Union men," and claimed to be as loyal as anybody. The Union was preserved, and the most rampant Copperheads and blatant secessionists insisted that they were "Unionists." The loyal party in the East had to have a name to distinguish it from its old foes who, though shamelessly disloyal, had begun to assume its name and therefore by common consent it gradually took the name "Republican." It is now generally known by this name throughout the country, and not one man in a thousand who stood with the Union party during the war has abandoned it since the struggle closed. This was shown by the elections of last fall when the majorities given by the old party of the Union,—then called the Republican party,—were even greater than its majorities during the war.

The Copperheads have all along called their opponents "Republicans;" yet when their opponents chanced to call themselves by this name, the Copperheads declare it to be an unmasking of their old "disunion principles." The other day a Copperhead newspaper spoke with the greatest admiration and respect of some persons whom it called "our Republican allies," but this same paper now turns ungratefully against its new found friends by denouncing all Republicans as disunionists. Of course it makes no difference what name a party is known by, and "Republican" is as good a name as any other. It has at least one great advantage over the word "Democracy" in that, during our great struggle, the word "Republican" did not become synonymous with treason. Loyal Democrats at the outbreak of the rebellion quit the party, renounced the name, and will never adopt it again.

Mr. Hallock, through his organ presents his thanks to the OREGONIAN for the many complimentary notices it has given him during the last three months. The OREGONIAN will not be outdone in politeness, and therefore congratulates Mr. Hallock upon the certainty that in less than three years he will be unceremoniously kicked out of office for his misdoings, just as he was three years ago.

THROAT AFFECTIONS.—A Physician writing from Newfane, New York, speaking of the beneficial effects resulting from the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches," says "For alleviating that horrid irritation only felt by those who have suffered from any Bronchial Affection, and for Hoarseness and Sore Throat, too, I am free to confess (though I am an M. A SEA WALL.—The great work of erecting a massive sea wall around the entire city front has been commenced in San Francisco. The sea wall once finished San Francisco will have as fine a harbor as any in the United States. KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, have adopted a rule of trading that is as beneficial to them as the sea wall to San Francisco. They ask but one price for their fine and custom-made Clothing, Dry Goods etc., and that price is so low that every person is satisfied that it requires no advertised figures to prove it, as facts are more positive proofs.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—The Council met last evening.

Present, Messrs. Carson, Fechheimer, Hallock, McCracken, O'Connor, Rosenblatt and Zolber.

On motion, Mr. McCracken was called to preside.

Mr. Hallock made the following remarks, officially announcing the death of Mayor Holmes:

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Common Council,

It becomes my and duty to make the official announcement to the Council that Thomas J. Holmes, the late Mayor, died at his residence in this city, on Tuesday night at half past ten o'clock. It is proper on an occasion like the present that some words be spoken and placed on our record in testimony of our respect for the deceased Chief Magistrate, and as a tribute to his memory as a man. Perhaps no member of the Council at this time is so situated to this duty than he upon whom it has fallen. It is an occasion where the utterances which reason would suggest are overwhelmed by emotion beyond human control. The thought which overshadows and obscures all others is, that Thomas J. Holmes is dead! A man has fallen—a right pure and noble man—a man who reversed manhood and fully recognized all its duties and responsibilities. The Council has lost an able and discreet counselor; the city an honored Chief Magistrate, society one of its most useful members, and your humble speaker a most cherished friend. During the short period which he has occupied that chair, how faithfully he has guarded the public interests and how zealously he has labored for the public weal, you can all bear testimony. In his relations to society, the sacred hearts of all who knew him, offer the most fitting tribute. I cannot say more; both the promptings of public duty and personal friendship demands that I should not say less.

Mr. Zolber offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Council regard the death of Thomas J. Holmes as a public calamity, bewailing the loss of an able, just and efficient Chief Magistrate, an enterprising and public spirited citizen, a generous friend, a charitable neighbor and an honest man.

Resolved, That the members of this council tender their sincere condolence to the family of the deceased, his relatives and friends, in their deep affliction.

Resolved, That the Council Chamber be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That the citizens of Portland are hereby respectfully requested to suspend labor and close their several places of business, on Thursday, June 20th, from 10 o'clock A. M., till 3 o'clock P. M., in respect to the memory of the deceased.

Mr. Fechheimer offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to make such arrangements for the funeral as may be necessary, and that they be instructed to invite the different societies to participate.

Resolved, That the city officers, members elect to the City Council, ex-Mayors and members of the city government, be invited to meet at the Council Room to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, to attend the funeral of Mayor Holmes.

Messrs. Zieber, Fechheimer and Carson were appointed as a Committee in accordance with the preceding resolution, and who made the following report:

The Committee appointed by the Common Council to make arrangements for the funeral of the late Mayor Hon. Thomas J. Holmes, respectfully request that all places of business be closed between 9 o'clock A. M. and 12 M. this day, in order that all may join in paying the last tribute of respect to our late chief magistrate.

The procession will be formed as follows:

Police.
Mechanic's Band.
Masonic Fraternity.
Hearse.
Family of the Deceased.
City Marshal.
City Officers.
Federal and State Officers.
Ex. City Officers.
14th Infantry Band.
Fire Department.
Military Companies.
Other Societies.
Citizens on Foot.
Citizens in Carriages.
Citizens on Horseback.

The several Societies intending to appear in the procession will inform the Chief Marshal, Albert Zieber, at the Council room at or before 2 o'clock, in order that appropriate places may be assigned them. The Procession will be formed at Trinity Church, Second street, at precisely 11 o'clock.

AL. ZIEBER,
C. S. FECHHEIMER, } Committee.
J. C. CARSON,

On motion, adjourned.

DEATH OF MAYOR HOLMES.—The sudden death of Mayor Holmes threw our city yesterday morning into a gloom and spirit of mourning not to be described on paper. During the day upon which he died, he was on the street, apparently as well as ever. A stroke of appoplexy was the cause of his death. In the morning he complained of a headache and during the evening informed a lady who was visiting at his house that he had a peculiar and strange feeling about the temples. He retired to bed about 10 o'clock and prepared himself for sleep, when he discovered something wrong, and spoke to him, but no reply was made; she then called for a young lady in the house, who came, but no assistance could be rendered him, and in half an hour Mayor Holmes was no more. The mourning in our community reaches all ages, parties and societies, and is not restricted in its limits to any one portion of the city. The city offices, Recorder's Court, &c., are draped in emblems of mourning. The Council met last night, but they met and their presiding officer, and the surroundings were emblematic of their feelings. The flags of the city were at half-mast, yesterday. Many of Mr. Holmes' friends visited his residence yesterday to take a last look at the mortal remains of him who was once one of us. Mr. Holmes was born in Suffolk, England, and emigrated to the United States in 1837, and settled in New Jersey, where he remained until the year 1852, when he emigrated to California, and the same year removed to Oregon. He located in Portland, where he has since resided, and fought his way through adversity, and acquired property which secured him a handsome competence.

"A ITEM."—Yesterday morning ere we had scarcely begun to look for news, and before our eyes had fairly opened for the day, we blindly staggered on "a item"—to-wit: a balky horse "as wouldn't go," and a passionate driver. The driver attempted by kind words and light strokes, each of which about neutralized the effect of the other, hence the result was that nothing satisfactory was obtained. At length the driver "put on a stile," who knowingly took the reins and began to "wallop" the poor brute, until there was danger of breaking the shaft, when he descended and commenced to hit first on one side and then on the other of the horse's head, causing him to stand square on his feet, about the same as Napoleon managed Louis Napoleon—by slapping his ears on one side and then on the other to keep him on his feet. The last scene was performed with indicrous bad taste. The driver, who was, held the reins and played the whip on one end of the horse, while the "stub" was coming at the other, the result of which was expected would be that the horse would scratch the comer and kick at the whipper, but he took it mild, and stood as if respectfully unconcerned. At last the owner of the horse becoming disgusted, sold him on the spot for $50, much less than his value,—and so the curtain fell, and the horse disappeared.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. Samuel Miller, proprietor of the saw and planing mill at Oregon City came near losing his life yesterday morning. His coat caught in some machinery and was about to draw him forward into its irresistible grasp, when he reached behind him to save himself and put his hand into the planing machine, which was running, and was immediately drawn toward it, when by quick flip one of the hands seeing the condition of affairs, rushed to the belt and pulled it off the drum and stopped the machinery, by which the life of Mr Miller was providentially saved.

CIRCUIT COURT.—The following are yesterday's proceedings of this Court: "Ordered that the time for filing papers and other similar proceedings in all the cases upon the docket be and it is enlarged till the 8th day of July, unless the parties by consent or upon one day's notice shall bring on for argument any of the matters aforesaid." State vs. E. Dalton; same vs. Michael O'Meliza—in these cases the Grand Jury returned "not true bills." John P. Cook vs. Ed. Cook; judgment for $39 95, and foreclosure of mechanics' lien.

WIND.—Yesterday about 11 o'clock, boreas being angry sent a puff of wind from its mythical hostills which sent dry goods, clothing, hats, caps and other articles of apparel "skiting" up Alder street, from Front. Vigilant clerks kept an eye open, fearing their exposed merchandise would take a more sudden and surreptitious leave than would be agreeable to the cash-book. But the wind ceased after a moment's cavorting and left us as suddenly as it came.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.—The Pioneer Base Ball Club of this city, has accepted a challenge from the Clackamas Club to play at Oregon City on the Fourth of July. A challenge from the Occidental Club at Vancouver has also been accepted,—the time when the game is to be played has not transpired. Harry Levins has resigned his position as scorer for the Pioneer Base Ball Club, and the society handsomely thanked him for his diligent and acceptable services.

IN MOURNING.—The Council Chamber, in which is also transacted the business of the Recorder's Court, is tastefully arranged in a dress of mourning, and also over the door in entering the building may be seen the evidence of the mournful spirit of those over whom Mayor Holmes was used to preside.

OREGON COURT.—A late Idaho paper says that Judge Cummins, E. M. Hallock, Clerk of the Court, Judge Curtis, District Attorney, and several members of the bar, have gone to Silver City to hold a term of the District Court. The late attempt to assassinate A. P. Minear will be investigated.

DEATH CASES.—Charges of an assault and battery were lodged against George Hill and Joseph Taylor in Esq Anderson's Court, yesterday, by Wm R. Hill. George Hill had his trial and the decision was reserved until Friday, when Joseph Taylor will have his trial.

QUICK TIME.—Late Eastern papers were received at this office three days ago via Salt Lake and the Dalles. The St. Louis Democrat of May 31st, was received on the 16th inst., at least a week earlier than could be obtained by way of Sacramento.

THE FESTIVAL.—We would remind our readers that this evening the ladies of the Unitarian Society give their festival at Runsates' building, First street, third door south of Shanahan's picture gallery. Only twenty-five cents admission.

EXTRAS.—To-day at 12 o'clock, the time expires in which bids can be proposed for the construction of the Methodist Church. All bids to be handed in at Ladd & Tilton's bank.

THE CASCADES.—The Cascades yesterday brought down from Walla Walla 30 tons of flour, 4 tons of wool and 8 hogs freight.

GRANT COUNTY.—Parties from Grant county are now in the city for the purpose of purchasing a quartz mill, if they can do so profitably. The mill is to be located on the middle fork of John Day's river, in the immediate vicinity of rich leads of mineral. They report times as being better now than they have been for a year. It has been ascertained to a certainty that there are numerous, rich, valuable leads in that county.

ARRIVED.—G. W. Hunt, of Beaver Glen, Marion county, arrived in town yesterday, en route for Puget Sound. He informs us he will visit Sitka if his health permits, which has heretofore been delicate, but at present is improving.

THE FUNERAL OF MAYOR HOLMES.—The funeral of Mayor Holmes will take place to-day at 11 o'clock from Trinity Church. The common Council have invited all civic and military organizations in this city to participate.

IN TOWN.—N. H. Crandy, Esq., of Albany, is in town, having been here the past two or three days. He did not go to San Francisco on the Ajax, as some of his friends supposed, from reading the advertised list of passengers.

ADJOURNMENT OF THE RECORDER'S COURT.—Judge Hoffman of this Court, adjourned over all business until Friday morning at nine o'clock, out of respect to Mayor Holmes, who departed this life on Tuesday evening last.

BETH ISRAEL SCHOOL.—There was an examination yesterday of Mrs. Phillips' English class. We are informed that they passed a very creditable examination, reflecting credit upon their teacher and themselves.

U. S. GRANT.—This staunch little steamer, Capt. Kearns, left her wharf yesterday morning for Astoria, loaded heavily with freight, and took a large number of passengers. She returns to-day.

PRODUCE.—The Senator brought down a large number of passengers and considerable freight, as follows: 3,309 sks flour, 3 cases mdse, 1 trunk, 200 gunnies wheat, 1 box shrubbery, 5 bales paper.

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY AFTER ALL.—And ever since we commenced business we have pursued the "even tenor of our way," undeterred by the frowns of others. Quick sales and small profits has and ever will be our motto. We publish our price list for the convenience of customers, and expect to abide by it; and we assert and stick to it, that Barzman Bros. have got the lead in the clothing business in Portland, and mean to keep it, selling at the following prices. No. 1 dress coats from $10 to $40; dress pants from $5 to $14; casimere suits $13 50 to $35; linen dusters at $2; white shirts at $1 50 to $2 25; Shaker flannel shirts and drawers at $1 75. Go to Barzman Bros., corner Front and Morrison streets.

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J. L. Parrish & Co's something new in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Rodulphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The bass stops are the Forte, Jeu Doux, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Bourdon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Fife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Knee or full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance: from the flute to Voix Celeste with full Expression; the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full, grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name imports. Other changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish; have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $500. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

A Perilous Adventure on the Indian Frontier.

A letter from an officer at Fort Phil. Kearney, Dakotah Territory, to his friends in Detroit, has been published in the Detroit Post. We extract from it the following account of a perilous adventure

We have finally succeeded in opening communication with Fort C. F. Smith, ninety miles above here, on the Big Horn river. Up to three days ago we had heard nothing from them for two months, and were very anxious about them, but after repeated trials by mountaineers and miners to go through, we at length succeeded in sending two messengers, Sergeant Grant, of my company, and Sergeant Graham of Company G. They started from here on snowshoes, and took to the mountains, with only ordinary clothing and six days rations of hard bread and lard. Each night they cached one day's rations, and left a memorandum of what had happened to them. They finally after much suffering and hunger, reached Fort Smith with our dispatches. They stayed two days, and were sent back with a half breed named Beyer, each mounted, and with two pack mules.

When they came to the Little Horn river they saw where a buffalo had been killed, and moccasin tracks around it, and immediately left the road and made for the hills. When they had gone about five miles and crossed a hill they stopped, looked back and saw about fifteen Indians after them Their horses were blown, and Sergeant Grant had to shoot his. The other two men, getting frightened, ran away from him and left him afoot. He ran toward a clump of pines, about 500 yards distant, and while so doing he fell into a hole in the snow, and found that he had been running on the edge of a precipice of a sheer two hundred feet fall, and had fallen on a little ledge of rocks, the entrance of which was through a hole that was covered with snow. He had a Spencer carbine, breech loading, and eighty rounds of ammunition, and says he felt perfectly safe. He heard the Indians yelling above him, and soon they commenced to throw stones down the hole, which was about nine feet deep, and just sheltered him Then one Indian jumped down the hole, armed with a Henry repeating rifle When he (the Indian) saw Sergeant Grant he dropped his gun and gave a yell, and starting back fell over the ledge, which was narrow.

In a few minutes another Indian let himself down, and Grant shot him and threw his body over the bank. This was about nine o'clock in the morning The Indians stayed near the hole until nearly dark, when a thick fog came up and they went away. He cautiously followed them, keeping in their trail for about three miles, when he tore up his overcoat and made wrappings of it for his feet, to hide the shoe heels, and went up the river on the ice. He traveled four days, and on the evening of the fourth day got into the post Sergeant Graham and Boyer got in an hour before him and told us that he was killed, and that the mail was lost and all the horses gone. Boyer only had one letter from Colonel Kinney, commanding Fort Smith, which he carried in his pocket They seemed very badly scared.

When Grant made his appearance, covered with ice, and with the Henry rifle which he had captured, Graham thought it was his ghost. Altogether it is one of the best things that has been done in this country, and we are going to do something for Grant, and try and get him something from Washington. He is very sick in the hospital with pleurisy and exhaustion, resulting from his suffering and exposure.

THE WHIPPING POST IN DELAWARE.—The Wilmington Commercial has the following remarks on the barbarous custom still adhered to in the State of Delaware, of publicly whipping men as a punishment for crime:

The effect of scourging a man in public, and of exposing him fastened in a pillory, is to utterly degrade him If he had previously existing in his bosom a spark of self respect, this exposure to public shame utterly extinguishes it. Yet with out the hope that springs eternal in the human breast, without some desire to reform and become a good citizen, and the feeling that such a thing is possible no criminal can ever return to honorable [illegible] The boy of eighteen who is whipped for robbery is in nine cases out of ten a self-respect destroyed, the [illegible] public disgrace branded upon [illegible] himself lost and abandoned [illegible] is ready then to raise his [illegible] to make war upon the laws [illegible] and injured him, instead of [illegible] appropriate punishment. Such [illegible] the Courts again and again [illegible] every repetition of his degradation will but harden and confirm his wickedness No reasonable man dare longer attempt to defend the lash and pillory. No just, humane or Christian man can do it. The time surely cannot be far distant when the precepts of decency, civilization and Christianity will prevail over these relics of barbarism, even in Delaware, and remove the stain forever.

DESTITUTION IN VIRGINIA.—H. L. Seymour, M. D., formerly of Greenfield, Mass., and during the war a highly esteemed surgeon in the army, and at the General Hospital, near Fortress Monroe, since the war has ceased, remains at Hampton, Va., as physician and the freedmen's friend

He writes to his friend, Rev. J. F. Stone, of Derby "I have done, and I trust cheerfully, for this people till I am impoverished. If I should not continue to do as I have heretofore done, I want you to understand the reason to be, that I cannot for want of means! My heart is with them, and as long as I remain here, and they are needy, rest assured that I shall do all for them in my power. But a person situated as I am needs the income and generosity of a Peabody. Oh! that the business men of the North, who, during the late war, have accumulated their thousands, could know something of the deprivations and sufferings which those who have been disposed to be honest and liberal down here have been subject to. Had I rich and liberal friends North I think I would lay my case before them, and give them an invitation to open their purses and contribute as they ought towards helping these poor people."

GEORGE PEABODY AND THE PRESIDENCY.—A correspondent of the Newark (N. J.) Journal publishes the following opinion of George Peabody respecting his nomination for the Presidency of the United States

Do not understand me to intimate that I consent or this allusion to my name in connection with the Presidency disrespectful, on the contrary, it is most kind and complimentary Were I but forty, and could I be elected to the position, not as a partisan, but by a united people, I should like it But I am seventy two years of age, and my chief desire, so far as I am personally concerned, is to preserve my health The climate of England admirably agrees with me, and on Wednesday next I sail for England in the Scotia, for a three years' absence There I can pass my days in the open air without suffering from exposure. The rays of the sun do not prostrate me there as here If cold weather comes I can reach a milder atmosphere in twenty four hours I shall pass much of my time in salmon fishing. The exercise is just what I require, and I enjoy it. It gives expansion to the lungs and freedom to the circulation

SOUTH SECESH HIPALUTIN.—The New York Tribune tells of something horrible in the following

John George Ryan, editor of the Pine Bluff Southern Vindicator, announces that the colors of that lively paper will fall before the gleaming of military bayonets, that his pen will rust, but that he will give into the enemy from the outer works of the fortress, that memory fills the heart with harrowing pain, and fires the soul with revenge, that demons hurl their wrath, whom he shall never cease to curse, that he hates, hates, bitterly hates, hates his persecutors, and that the Pine Bluff Vindicator, which is a bugle, a banner, a fortress and a ship, is surrendered to the overwhelming enemy, who has gained its deck with gleaming cutlass in hand, and hatred flashing from his coward eyes made bold by victory.

ADVICE TO JEFF DAVIS.—The New York Evening Post, of May 15th contains the following

Jefferson Davis will it is reported, arrive in New York to day As it is possible that our journals may fall under the eyes of some of his friends, we suggest to them the propriety of urging the traitor chief to the most modest demeanor while he is here. The public is greatly and justly outraged at his release, it desired and expected to see him brought to trial and condemned to the punishment which the laws decree for such crimes as his

That he has not been brought to trial for those crimes is, we think, an injury to the country, and will prove a source of weakness hereafter to us. But as he has been released, a decent respect for public opinion demands that he should go quietly into an obscure place and live there in utmost retirement. It is not fit or decent that he should be seen in New York at all If there is any dark unvisited corner where he can hide himself, let him slink to it and there remain

If he is so ill advised and foolish as to attempt any public appearance here, he will, not improbably, excite a public commotion and tumult When just laws remain unexecuted, whom great and atrocious criminals are by the connivance of the authorities allowed to escape punishment, the sense of outraged justice sometimes leads the people to take matters into their own hands, and to deal that justice which is denied by the Courts and other authorities. We do not mean to justify any such resort to violence; but we know that the public mind is deeply and painfully excited, not only at the release of the leading and most impudent and stiff-necked traitor, but also at his shameless insolence in coming here to show himself immediately upon his liberation

Our streets are still full of wounded and crippled soldiers—the marks of his crime. Thousands of our citizens have seen the shattered wrecks turned over to us from the loathsome Libby prison, the poor, famished and frozen fellows who came from the horrible pen of Belle Isle to die, or to live out a few painful years of suffering. All know that these foul prisons were not at a great distance, but under the very eyes of Davis, whom he looked out of his bedroom windows every morning to saw our starving soldiers at Belle Isle, when he rode out for his pleasure or health he rode by the Libby. Nor was his malignant content even to thus starve and freeze to death our soldiers, but he added insult to his tortures "Do you not all know," said he at Columbia, on the 4th of October, 1864, "Do you not all know that the way to make spaniels civil is to whip them?" "Does any man believe," he said, "that Yankees are to be conciliated by terms of concession" Does any man imagine that we can conquer Yankees by fawning before them—or do you not know that the only way to make spaniels civil is to whip them?"

It is a part of his "spaniel" theory to come at once to New York when he is released. Let his friends, of whom he appears to have some in high places, warn him to be prudent, he has no business here, he has no right to walk our streets, to flaunt himself in the faces of the widows and orphans his crime and his stiff necked persistence in crime has made. Let him slink away over byroads in a close carriage to some obscure and unknown spot and there hide himself.

THE ANDERSONVILE ATROCITIES.—A dispatch dated at Washington, May 30th, says

The Judiciary Committee has in its possession a letter written by a Confederate soldier, on duty at Andersonville to Jeff. Davis, while the atrocities practiced there upon the union prisoners was greatest. The letter enters at length into details of the barbarous treatment, and says Federal prisoners were being frequently shot, and that the rebel officers were encouraging the slaughter. The writer says he hates the Yankees, and was driven from his home in Louisiana by them, but still he cannot endure a service which compels him to witness and take part in such cruelties as were purposely practiced at the Andersonville prison He addressed the letter to Davis because he believed him to be a man of honor and a Christian, and that the terrible treatment meted out to prisoners was certainly unsanctioned by him. The soldier urged that he might be shielded from exposure for writing the letter, and that President Davis would have the matter investigated and abuses corrected. The indorsement upon this letter shows that Davis received it. The only action taken, however, was to refer it to the rebel General Winder, the brute who was directly responsible for the shooting and starvation at Andersonville. The document with its indorsement constitutes the clearest proof of Davis' personal responsibility for the treatment of prisoners which has yet come to light. There are also two letters in the possession of our authorities from a rebel surgeon at Andersonville to the authorities, one protesting against the treatment of Federal prisoners, and a subsequent one showing he had received an answer to the first, in which he apologizes for his first communication, and says he did not understand, when he wrote, that there were diplomatic reasons, and in another part of the letter internal reasons, for cruel treatment, a virtual admission being made that cruelties were resorted to to force an exchange for the purpose of strengthening the rebel army.

GRAY'S HARBOR, WASHINGTON TERRITORY.—The Bulletin of June the 7th gives the following:

This fine harbor has heretofore been almost unvisited until this spring. It is situated about thirty-nine miles north of the Columbia river, and has a wide entrance well defined. From Captain Bloomfield, who has been employed buoying it out, we learn that the harbor has been completely buoyed, so that no difficulty will be experienced by any navigator in making a safe entrance or exit. He reports that there is twenty four feet of water on the bar at the lowest tide, and the bar is a mile and a half wide. The channel on the inside is of the same width and is well defined, the shoal places having been well buoyed and located a good passage existing for vessels to beat up and down without danger. Vessels carrying about 200,000 feet of lumber can run up about thirty miles in the Chehalis river. The location of Gray's Harbor is exceedingly well adapted for the lumber trade, it being about five hundred miles nearer than the lumber ports on Puget Sound, while the immense quantity of cedar and the facilities for loading are greatly in advance of those at Port Orford. The harbor abounds in fine fish, salmon, in particular, being of superior quality and in great abundance. The land outside the timber is excellent farming land, but has not been considered of much value heretofore, owing to lack of markets for the sale of produce. With the running of lumber mills this will be obviated, and the place probably be well settled up. A small steamer is expected from the Columbia in June, which is to run regularly in the Chehalis river, which is reported navigable for eighty miles from its mouth. Any information desired about the location of the buoys, etc., in the harbor, can be had on application to the Lighthouse Department in this city.

THE SANCY DIAMOND.—The Bombay papers mention the transmission to England, last mail, by letter post, of the celebrated Sancy diamond, through Messrs. Forbes & Co., of Bombay Although the story of the Sancy diamond is not as remarkable as those of some other historic gems, it is still sufficiently noteworthy. The Diamond was found on the body of Charles the Bold, Duke of Burgundy, after his defeat at Granson, in 1476, by the King of Portugal, and ten years later was sold by him to Nicholas de Bally, Baron de Sancy, from whom it derives its name The Baron de Sancy sent it to the King of France, and the servant who had charge of the gift being attacked by robbers, proved himself equal to the occasion, and swallowed the diamond We must assume that his death followed on the act of devotion for, according to the story, the stone was found in his body. It afterwards came in the possession of James II of England, by whom it was sold for £25,000 to Louis XIV. During the French Revolution the Sancy diamond, as well as the more celebrated blue diamond, disappeared The latter has never been recovered, but the former was purchased by Napoleon I by whom it was after wards sold to Prince Paul Demidoff. It is valued at from $20,000 to $30,000, is pear-shaped, and weighs 53½ carats.

CLARK'S DEFEAT.—The Walla Walla Statesman is endeavoring to hunt up reasons for the defeat of the "orphan boy," and discourses as follows.

Conceding that the "bolt" in this county weakened Clark, still the returns show that he received from the country east of the mountains very nearly the vote that was expected. Admitting that we have not accomplished all that we desired, still, had the counties west of the mountains done as well the Democratic candidate would have been elected The primal responsibility for the defeat, we take it, rests upon Clarke county, and next upon the unpopularity of the candidate himself in his own section of country Pierce county—the home of Frank Clarke—we were told would give him 150 majority Instead of this, he carries the county by only 51 votes In making the canvass, Clark assures us that he would carry the Sound country by a handsome majority, and all that he desired of the eastern counties was that their vote should not show a majority against him His friends have given him all that they promised, and having done so, feel that they are not responsible for his defeat Had others worked as well, success would have been achieved, but lacking this co operation, it was impossible to avert a disastrous result.

Particulars of the Shooting Affray on the Siuslaw

Last week we promised the particulars of the affair in which Delemater shot Barlow The account which we now give is founded up n the statements of Barlow and Delemater whose stories almost entirely agree.

Barlow had talked to Delemater's hired hand and so disaffected him by telling him he would never get his pay for young Delemater nor his father before him had ever paid their hands, that the hired man left

This maddened and irritated Delemater and he desired to ask Barlow for the truth of the statement of the hired man, and went to Barlow's and called at the gate for him to come out and when he came asked him if this story is true, Barlow said it was, he had said it, and it was true Delemater disputed it, declared it to be false, and rough words passed between them Barlow attempts to cross the fence to get to Delemater but a rail turned and threw him back Delemater reaches for his revolver, Barlow looks round for something with which to strike—keeps his eye on Delemater and falls back to the house, and Delemater goes on toward home

After Delemater had started off, he saw Barlow who had gone out the back door going in a fast walk in a direction to intercept him having his rifle in his hand Barlow passed beyond his gate seventy five yards, heading off Delemater who was warning him to take back his gun They were now about sixty yards apart, and at this stage the firing began Barlow says he had started to return when he was fired upon, then turned and they both fired about the same time, then he continued to retreat and Delemater fired the third shot, which took effect in his back and just as he was getting through the gate the last and fourth shot was fired upon him Delemater says that Barlow instead of retreating was raising his gun when he fired the first shot

There was a witness present, but his story conflicts some with both these, agreeing enough, however, to indicate that the story of themselves, in the main, is substantially true

Barlow received a fearful wound. The ball entered near the back-bone—between it and the right shoulder blade, ranging slightly to the right and going through or almost through the right lobe of the lungs and lodging either in the wall of the chest or the body of the lung, but scarcely a hope that it did lodge in the front wall of the chest where the flesh would most readily grow over it is now entertained

An examination was finally had which resulted in committing the young man to jail, not in default of bonds, but because the Court thought that the evidence was strong that an attempt to commit murder had been made, and the presumption being great to the mind of the Court, it was not considered to be a bailable case

We stated last week that Judge Walton was trying to get the case into court for examination. After three or four abortive attempts by Walton and Gorman, Judge Risdon was called upon when everything seemed to move off like clock work.

But be it understood by the uninformed—the unsophisticated, that it was really not so much a strong presumption that sent the young man to jail as a strong necessity—that shape which costs the most is the form which Prutous has to take about that Court House —Eugene Journal.

NEW ORDER OF THINGS IN ALABAMA.—A newspaper called the Republican Union Advocate, has been started at Selma, Alabama. The following article indicates its position, and foreshadows the new dispensation which is henceforth to prevail in the South:

In behalf our wasted and impoverished country, and with no motive other than to do good, we have espoused the Republican party, because that party alone can save us from the woes we deprecate We have been dragged long enough in the ruts of secession, and now we wish to make a complete finish of the work of reconstruction. We are certain that no, half-way surrender to "the powers that be" will suffice to give us representation. We can go to Washington under but one banner, and that is the one we have nailed to our mast-head. The party in power will rule the destinies of the Union for all time to come, for it has more of the elements of national vitality than any other. It has the prestige of suppressing the rebellion, of freeing the slaves, and of inaugurating an era of such political and financial consequence as must needs give it almost and endless existence, It is the party of "Liberty, Union and Equality," and its spirit is identical with that which moves the whole civilized world. It is a spirit that breathes good will to the downtrodden masses of mankind, and is unselfish, active, and aggressive for the accomplishment of the greatest good.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER, after a thorough trial, by innumerable living witnesses, has proved itself THE MEDICINE OF THE AGE Although there have been many medicinal preparations brought before the public since the first introduction of Perry Davis Vegetable Pain Killer, and large amounts expended in their introduction, the Pain Killer has continued to steadily advance in the estimation of the world as the best Family Medicine ever introduced. It is an internal and external remedy. One positive proof of its efficacy is, that the sales have constantly increased, and wholly upon its own merits The effect of the Pain Killer upon the patient, when taken internally in case of Cold Cough, Bowel Complaints, Cholera, Dysentery and other affections of the system, has been truly wonderful, and has won for it a name among medical preparations that can never be forgotten. Its success in removing pain, as an external remedy in case of Burns, Bruises, Sores, Sprains, Cuts, Sting of Insects, and other causes of suffering, has secured for it such a host of testimony, as an almost infallible remedy, that it will be handed down to posterity as one of the greatest medical discoveries of the nineteenth century
